Prize Winners

Alwyn Smith Prize
This prize was endowed by Professor Alwyn Smith on his retirement as President of the Faculty in 1986. A prize is awarded annually to the member or fellow of the Faculty, judged to have made the most outstanding contribution to the health of the public by either research or practice in public health.

Awarded to:
Dr Nick Gent

Wilfrid Harding Faculty Prize
Established by Dr Wilfrid and Mrs Hilary Harding in 1990, a certificate and cheque are normally awarded biennially to a member judged to have made the most outstanding effort and achievement on behalf of FPH.

Awarded to:
Dr Alice Tyler

Sian Griffiths International Award
In June 2008 Professor Sian M Griffiths OBE MB BCHIR FRCP FFPH generously endowed the above award starting in 2010, to commemorate her term as President of the Faculty of Public Health (2001-2004). The funding for the award was given to FPH as an educational grant under the current Charity Commission definition of ‘Gift Aid’. The aim of the award is to promote the development of public health capacity by helping FPH members, working within the specialty, to gain international public health experience either whilst in training or as a part of continuing professional development. An emphasis will be on public health work in middle and low income countries.

Awarded to:
Mr Nicholas Bundle
June and Sidney Crown Award
Dr June Crown, past President of the Faculty, and her husband, Dr Sidney Crown, endowed an annual award starting in 1999 whose purpose is to assist young members of FPH (particularly those working within the National Health Service) to gain experience or further training outside the United Kingdom.

Awarded to:
Dr Nadeem Hasan

BACP travelling fellowship
Established in 1994, using funds donated by the British Association of Community Physicians on its dissolution, a fellowship is normally awarded biennially to assist members of the Faculty in training to undertake educational travel, normally outside the United Kingdom.

Awarded to:
Dr Nadeem Hasan

The McEwen Award
The prize is awarded each year to the candidate with the highest score in the Part B MFPH (OSPHE) examination at their first attempt.

Awarded to:
Ms Charlotte Matthews

Ann Thomas Prize
Dr Ann Thomas joined the Faculty in 1982 and continued to work as a Consultant in Public Health in Wales. She had keen interest in supporting new trainees who entered the specialty. On her death in October 2004 she kindly left a sum of money to be invested to provide a prize linked to a Faculty examination for trainees who have a Welsh connection.

Awarded to:
Dr Christopher Johnson

Trainer Award
To recognise the vital contributions of its members by way of a trainer award, a prize is normally awarded each year to two Educational Supervisors who demonstrate educational impact, exceptional commitment and/or innovation to the specialty in their remit as a trainer.

Awarded to:
Mrs Karen Thompson

Sam Ramaiah Award
An award is given each year for the best piece of work, including papers, policies, posters, presentations, audits or research, on a public health topic seeking to improve the health of black and minority ethnic communities or reduce health inequalities in the United Kingdom.

Awarded to:
Dr Rebecca Cushen
