

Synergy Award

Establishment

Foundation

The Synergy Award is aimed at an individual who has demonstrated a strong commitment to, or success in, working collaboratively with another organisation and driving forward shared public health objectives.

This award was established by former President of FPH, Professor Lindsey Davies and is open to anyone who is either a member of FPH or is part of the FPH staff team.

Funding

The endowment for the award will be held in a fund to be known as the 'Synergy Award Fund'.

Regulations

Purpose

To recognise individuals who have demonstrated a strong commitment to, or success in, working collaboratively with another organisation and driving forward shared public health objectives.

Eligibility

Any staff member or Member FPH who is currently in good standing can nominate themselves, or be nominated, for this Prize.

Prize

A commissioned sculpture and certificate.

Nomination

To nominate yourself or someone else for this Synergy Award, you must complete a nomination form.

Frequency of award

The award is given annually, funds permitting.

Closing date

31 March 2020.

Adjudication

Nominations will be short listed by a panel and then statements of support sought from the partner organisation. The panel will contain the following members:

- Lindsey Davies (ex-FPH president)
- Chief Executive
- One member of FPH staff
- One member of FPH board (either Vice President)
- Vice President for Standards
- Vice President for Policy
- Representative from UK Public health Network or the organisation connected to a previous winner if available

Criteria for award

The award will be presented to one winner each year.

Presentation

This will be presented at the annual awards ceremony on 25 June 2020.

Announcement

The decision of the adjudication committee will be reported to the Board and announced at the Annual Faculty Award Ceremony.

What opportunities are there to promote the award or prize winner?

Celebrating the achievements of FPH members is really important to us. That's why we encourage all award and prize winners to write a blog for us giving a brief account of the work you undertook to receive the award. All of our blogs are promoted to our members and wider public health community, and the aim is to inspire FPH members to apply for awards in future years, and celebrate the achievements of the award-winner – two things that are really important to us.
