

New Horizons in Public Health: The use of AI in public health in the UK – Event Agenda

Time	Session	Speaker
Framing the day
1030	Welcome	Prof. Alisha Davies, Public Health AI Lead, The Alan Turing Institute; Head of Research & Evaluation Public Health Wales, Co-chair of the FPH AI & Digital Public Health SIG
1035	The Future of Public Health	Prof. Kevin Fenton, President Faculty of Public Health
1040	What is AI?	Dr. Florian Ostmann, The Alan Turing Institute
Does AI present a new horizon for Public Health? Host: Dr. Elliott Roy Highley, Public Health Specialty Registrar, Co-chair of the FPH AI & Digital Public Health SIG
1100	A Focus on digital health and promotion	Dr Anya Skatova, UKRI Future Leaders Fellow, Population Health Sciences, University of Bristol
1115	A focus on screening	Prof. Sian Taylor-Phillips, Professor of Population Health, Director of Warwick Screening, Warwick Medical School, University of Warwick
1130	A focus on health surveillance - waste water	Prof. Marta Blangiardo, Professor of Biostatistics, Imperial College
1145	Q&A
Comfort break

The challenges of AI

Host: Dr. Samantha Field, Public Health Specialty Registrar, Co-chair of the FPH AI & Digital Public Health SIG

1205	A focus on ethics & equity Q&A	Dr Christopher Burr, Senior Researcher in Trustworthy Systems, The Alan Turing Institute
1230	Close	