

New Horizons in Public Health: The use of AI in public health in the UK – Event Agenda

Time	Session	Speaker
Framing the day
1030	Welcome	Prof. Alisha Davies, Public Health AI Lead, The Alan Turing Institute; Head of Research & Evaluation Public Health Wales, Co-chair of the FPH AI & Digital Public Health SIG
1035	The Future of Public Health	Prof. Kevin Fenton, President Faculty of Public Health
1040	What is AI?	Dr. Florian Ostmann, The Alan Turing Institute
Does AI present a new horizon for Public Health? Host: Dr. Elliott Roy Highley, Public Health Specialty Registrar, Co-chair of the FPH AI & Digital Public Health SIG
1100	A focus on health surveillance - waste water	Prof. Marta Blangiardo, Professor of Biostatistics, Imperial College
1115	A focus on prevention - cancer screening	Prof. Sian Taylor-Phillips, Professor of Population Health Division of Health Sciences, Warwick Medical School
1130	A focus on digital health and prevention	Prof Aldo Faisal, Imperial College London
1145	Q&A

Comfort break

The challenges of AI

Host: Dr. Samantha Field, Public Health Specialty Registrar, Co-chair of the FPH AI & Digital Public Health SIG

1205	A focus on ethics & equity	Dr Christopher Burr, Senior Researcher in Trustworthy Systems, The Alan Turing Institute
------	---------------------------------------	--

	Q&A
--	-----	--

1230	Close
------	-------	--